Living in motion

Let Adria inspire your next adventure.

“Our favourite family trip is the summer spent touring the Alps in our motorhome. The Coral is remarkably easy to drive, feels really well made and provides the perfect base for our adventures.”

“We use our Matrix Supreme in some pretty remote places. Our motorhome is superbly equipped and is always a warm and comfortable place to be.”

“It’s great to get away in our Sonic. We have had it for three years and have been all over Europe in it. It is our home from home, we take so much stuff with us and live out of it for weeks on end.”

When living in motion becomes a lifestyle

There is nothing quite like spending your free time in your own motorhome, with your family or friends. The anticipation of the trip, whether it’s a short weekend away or an extended holiday. It’s nice to arrive of course but the journey too is part of the pleasure. And in your Adria motorhome there are so many possibilities. From fabulous cities to enticing beaches or the true open air of the mountains and all things in between. We call it Living In Motion.

Europe's great outdoors doesn't get any greater than in Scandinavia.

Vast expanses of pure wilderness to explore, from remote and beautiful forests and enchanting lakes to effortlessly chic and cool cities. The region is covered with protected areas with facilities designed for exploring in your motorhome.

Just make sure it's the right motorhome, since you may be away from home for some time and expect to eat up those kilometres. The Sonic would be an excellent companion, with its class-leading combination of comfortable accommodation for four, home-from-home kitchen and bathroom.

Where and when to go? Scandinavia has proper seasons with long cold winters, perfect if you like to ski, go dog-sledding or experience the must-see Northern Lights.

Spring is always a welcoming sign of long sunny days to come and can be a beautiful time to visit as nature wakes itself up in spectacular fashion.

“Scandinavia is a paradise for taking your motorhome. Our Sonic ate up the roads with ease and provided really comfortable living on our three week trip.”

Summer is just perfect, endless days to explore nature, experience the festivals and soak up the sun or maybe chose the Autumn, when the glorious colours of nature change so dramatically.

It's impossible to do everything in one trip but on your wish-list would have to be exploring the natural beauty of the National Parks and fjords, so for this take a look at Norway and your itinerary must include the route from Stavanger-to Geiranger, including the beautiful city of Bergen.

The French Connection.

Try the area between Nantes and the Spanish border for your next touring holiday. Where France and Spain connect. From the northern wine regions and chateaux to the southern coastal plains, where the fiercely independent people of the Basque country live.

Plan your tour right and you could experience the heart of the French wine industry, the glitzy wonders of Biarritz and the natural spectacle that is the Dune du Pilat, Europe's highest sand dune. The Loire valley is centred around the town of Tours, is riddled with wondrous chateaux and wine-tasting opportunities. Experience the places behind the famous names and don't miss the fairy tale that is the Chateaux de Chambord.

Head west to the coast for fashionable Biarritz and then spend a lazy week or two on the coast south of Arcachon.

“Family holidays in France are always a pleasure. We took our Matrix motorhome and saw some amazing castles, tried the local wines and stayed right by the beach. The campsite had great facilities for the kids too.”

Here, the Dune du Pilat is a mountain of sand that has to be climbed. The views are panoramic and a few sunny beach days will suit the whole family.

This beautiful and wild coast must be on everyone's 'must see' list.

And the Matrix is the perfect travelling companion. It does everything really well, the perfect all-rounder!

The all-rounder

European Tour. Four countries in four weeks.

There's a lot you can do in four weeks. A long-awaited and much planned summer vacation, taking in four countries in a month. A doddle of course in your own motorhome. That's one of the joys of owning two homes, this one you just pack and take with you. A real home from home. Your things. Your place.

But where to go and who to visit on the way. We toured in our brand new Coral from Adria. This new vehicle, one of the first on the road, has a sleek profile but inside is really spacious and with lots of cool features. Sitting by one of the Austrian lakes we passed by, iPad playing on the new media wall and sunlight streaming through the sky-roof. Coffee brewing and another day of adventure ahead. Does life get much better?

Our tour started in Munich and took in some of Bavaria, stopped off in the beautiful southern Austrian lakes, meandered all too quickly through Slovenia and finished at the Croatian coast.

“Our European tour this year was a special one. An all-new motorhome, friends to see on the way and no less than four countries tried and tasted.”

Our tour highlights included Neuschwanstein Castle in Bavaria, mad King Ludwig II's fantasy home, and the week we spent in Slovenia. Here the beautiful unspoilt Bohinj Lake and the idyllic city of Ljubljana will stay in our memories. From there we quickly hopped to the Istrian coast and camped right next to the crystal-clear waters of the famed Adriatic coast.

Along the way we met many new friends and enjoyed offering hospitality in the new motorhome.

Our new Coral is the perfect place to entertain whilst on the move.

An icon. Redesigned.

Italy. It has it all.

Italy ranks amongst the world's top holiday destinations. There are many reasons for this and once visited you will want to go again and again. It has it all. A beautiful and diverse landscape, sunny climate, fabulous and enchanting cities, spectacular art treasures and, of course, every meal is a delightful celebration of its heritage and culinary talents.

But where to start and what to go in. It has to be a motorhome as there is so much to see and the beauty is, you can meander as you feel like. Just make sure it's the right motorhome, one which will accommodate you and all your things for the duration. It has to be three weeks but even with two there is so much to experience.

There is really only one choice for this trip. The Compact. With its class-leading combination of capacious and comfortable accommodation for four, kitchen and bathroom, ease of driving and ease of living. You could spend the whole summer on the road in this vehicle and in true Italian style, embrace life to the full.

“We love touring in our Compact. There’s plenty of room and it saves us money compared to using hotels.”

Where and when to go? It’s not possible to see everything in one trip but any trip really needs to combine the impressive beauty of Tuscany and its hill towns, Rome if you feel up-to it and maybe some beach too.

One itinerary stands out amongst many possibilities. Take in Firenze, meander through Tuscany to Rome and finish up on the coast. Italy has 1700 camping sites or campeggi, offering inexpensive stays, often in beautiful rural locations or at the edge of the big cities.
